Director's Message

Robert Jordan in the Fires of Heaven wrote, "The oak fought the wind and was broken, the willow bent when it must and survived".

Our program before the pandemic was on its way to being 800 members strong with a community of over 75 instructors, community leaders and presenters offering over 80 courses and lectures annually. We had on average a 80% membership renewal and served members who lived within or visited the Inland Empire and the Coachella Valley. The last two years shook our membership to its core and I am sending my gratitude to all members past, current and future who gave the program the strength to stay resilient and the opportunity to rebuild.

It was imperative that the focus in 2020 and 2021-2022 be on maintaining our reputation for the delivery of learning opportunities that are rooted in variety and depth. More importantly was the safety and well-being of our community during the public health crisis. You shared courage, persistence and your frustrations when stating your preferences and discomforts. You were always heard and your comments much appreciated.

A special thanks to members who supported the program with financial gifts as an investment in the health and growth of the program. I encourage you to continue to donate to the program. Your gifts will help to expand the portfolio of thought-provoking classes, special field events, lectures and social activities.

I thank the extremely talented and resourceful instructors who contributed to the mental fitness of our membership while adapting to the necessary changes that came with the new delivery modes and technologies. You embraced the changes and excelled in meeting the social, cultural and academic interests of our members.

Inside you will find a listing of the Spring/Summer 2022 courses and lectures to round off the 2021-2022 academic year. As Oliver Wendell Holmes, Jr noted, "A mind stretched to a new idea never goes back to its original dimensions". There is so much more to come.....

Cinematic Exploration: Hope, Despair and Perseverance

This class will explore three fundamental feelings and emotions that we often experience when confronted by life crises, unexpected events and developments, and dramatic situations. The films selected were chosen to reflect how we handle these emotions differently based on character, life exposures, environment and cultural background. The emphasis of the class highlights the cultural conditioning that determines our perceptions of reactions to and behaviors displayed under various life circumstances. The characters in the films will not only open up opportunities for us to discuss the theme of the films and delve into the human behaviors, but also allows for us to share unique personal stories.

Decorative Designs and Patterns from Medieval Manuscripts

The early Spanish manuscripts are rich with painted adornments that include capital letters, animals, interwoven knots and design patterns. In this course we'll be reproducing a different pattern every week. We'll recreate it these uniquely styled 'patterns' by first drawing them with pencil on graph paper, transferring into ink patterns and finally painting them in either the original manuscript colors or colors of your choice. These beautiful patterns can be framed or reproduced on applications such as note-cards, book bags, mouse-pads or t-shirts. Open to artists of all levels.

1967 - 1968 — From the Summer of Love to the Whole World is Watching

The years 1967 and 1968 were a time of unprecedented tumult and cultural upheaval. From the war in Vietnam, developments within the Black freedom movement, to the explosion of a radically different music, this course will dig under the hood of events in this period, too often relegated to cliché, and examine the deeper conflicts propelling them. Through music, documentary clips, government records and FBI files, we will reanimate a time that continues to stamp US society and the wider world.

Iran Contra: The Gift That Keeps On Giving

In fall of 1986, the covert and illegal enterprise of supplying arms to an insurgency in Central America and to the Iranian government in its war with Iraq burst out of its classified vaults on to the headlines of global media. The Reagan administration went into full cover-up mode in order to protect the president, who had been ardently directing these policies. In this course, you will journey from the early events that laid the groundwork for the deceitful endeavor through to the ignominious conclusion six years later when another president, himself a participant, pardoned the conspirators. You will discover how the seeds of war planted in the 1980s now yield a harvest of poisonous fruit that threatens global security. The course will incorporate lecture, discussion, and historic photos and videos.

John Powers, M.F.A., is a writer and director with experience in theater and film. Lessons From the Weimer: The Rise and Fall of a Democratic Republic

From 1918-1933, it was the German Reich, the German Republic, the Weimer, Germany's first democracy. Following a failed war, military insurrection, the abdication of a monarch, and a national revolution, the fledgling government was born of necessity. In much of its early years, it faced food shortages, labor strikes, civil disobedience, hyperinflation, and the payment of insurmountable foreign financial reparations. It served a humiliated, angry, politically, and economically divided society. However, it did have its own Golden Age. Arguably, Germany, and Berlin itself, became the cultural and artistic center of Europe if not the world. Economic prosperity, leisure, and the outward expression of individual freedom were evident. Yet still, it collapsed. This course will explore Weimer Germany and the reasons for its rise and fall. There are lessons here to be learned. Lessons for contemporary democratic societies to take seriously.

Stephen G. Harding. Since his undergraduate days at UCLA, Steve has been an avid student of 19th and early 20th century political, socio-economic, geographic, and cultural history. His academic areas of interest include comparative politics, political socialization, as well as local, national, and international systems of governance. UCR Osher instructor since 2016.

Passport to The Land of and The Life in Peru

This course will emphasize all the connections and interrelationships between the land of Peru and the long history of human existence within it. Course topics, discussions and slide shows will convey how the active and diverse landscapes of Peru helped early human cultures to evolve and adapt, leading to the emergence of successive cultural empires, how we can use art and artifacts to interpret these cultures, how and why ecological change and political competition caused these empires to fall, and be replaced by successive cultures. Along the way, we get to know uniquely Peruvian aspects of food, culture, nature, and customs.

Knotted and Painted from A to Z

That which we commonly refer to as, Celtic Knots, are one of man's earliest designs. We can find decorative knots applied to a variety of artifacts throughout history. In this course the focus is on interwoven capital letters found in 9th century Spanish manuscripts. We will reproduce and colorfully paint an alphabet of knotted letters. We do this via simple materials, step by step instruction, detailed demonstrations, and class participation including introduction to production and classic painting techniques. Accessible to artists of all levels.

The Edward A. Dickson Emeritus/a Professorship Lecture Series 2021-2022

The Imagination of Horace Walpole

Tuesday, May 17
3:30 pm - 5 pm | REMOTE

George E. Haggerty, Distinguished Professor of English Emeritus at the University of California, Riverside will discuss the life and letters of Horace Walpole, the son of England's first Prime Minister, and the author of England's first Gothic novel: The Castle of Otranto.

George E. Haggerty, is a Distinguished Professor of English Emeritus at the University of California, Riverside. His books include Gothic Fiction/Gothic Form (1989); Unnatural Affections: Women and Fiction in the Later Eighteenth Century (1998); Men In Love: Masculinity and Sexuality in the Eighteenth Century (1999); Queer Gothic (2006); Horace Walpole's Letters: Masculinity and Friendship in the Eighteenth-Century (2011); and Queer Friendship: Male Intimacy in the English Literary Tradition (2018). He has also edited (with Bonnie Zimmerman) Professions of Desire: Lesbian and Gay Studies in Literature (1995); Gay Histories and Cultures: An Encyclopedia (2000), Music and Sexuality in Britten: Selected Essays of Philip Brett (2006), and (with Molly McGarry) The Blackwell Companion to Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Queer Studies(2007). He is currently at work on Horace Walpole: A Life in Letters.

The Edward A. Dickson Emeritus/a Professorship Award is presented yearly to three retired UCR faculty to support their work on compelling projects in teaching, research, or public service activities. Edward A. Dickson served as a Regent of the University of California from 1913-1946, the longest tenure of any Regent.

In 1955 Mr. Dickson presented the University with an endowment to provide for annual special professorships for retired faculty. In 2003 the funds for the Dickson award were separated into ten endowments, one dedicated to each campus.

On the UCR campus, award oversight and evaluation is performed by the UCR Academic Senate Committee on Faculty Welfare, whose membership includes active and retired faculty. The Committee evaluates the merit and significance of the proposals and the nominees' previous contributions in the areas of teaching, research and service. Each emeritus/a professor receiving support from the Dickson endowment is known as an Edward A. Dickson Emeritus/a Professor for the duration of the award

Delivered Remotely.

UCR Osher
Spring/Summer 2022

Why Teach an Osher Course?

“Teaching ‘All Science Considered’ encourages me to think more deeply about the impact our topics have on our society. Class material should answer questions such as: “Why should participants be interested in a particular topic? And how it might affect their lives or the lives of their family?” I receive great enjoyment and satisfaction from both the preparation and the in-class interactions.”

— Michael Luther,
UCR Osher instructor
since 2016

Share Your Expertise

The Osher program attracts current and retired faculty from University of California, Riverside, retired faculty from local and national colleges, and distinguished community leaders and other experts who enjoy sharing their knowledge and joy of teaching with our members. Classes are offered in Riverside at the UCR Extension University Village (EUV) and in the Coachella Valley at UCR Palm Desert Center.

WANTED: mind-expanding ideas and discussions on a variety of topics.

Learning Formats Available

Lectures: Tuesday lectures series on timely and engaging topics. (Riverside location only at this time)

Courses: Multi-session, academic courses in a wide array of topics and delivery modes from in-person classroom instruction to remote delivered interactive instruction and demonstrations.

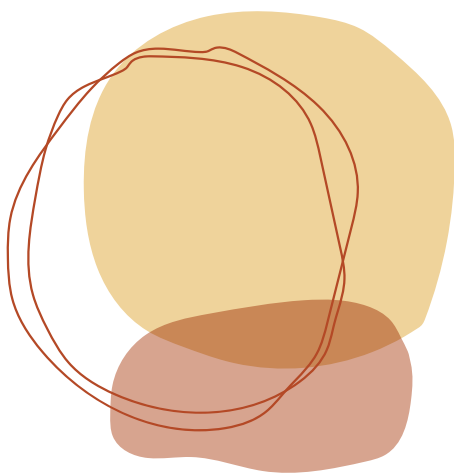

Field Trips and Study Tours: On site exploring and learning about cultural, historical and architectural events locally and internationally.

Special Events: Includes campus department lectures, and fun and entertaining events open to members and the general public.

Lunch Bunch: Another way for members to engage in cultural experiences through food while enjoying a meal together.

Workshops: Range from successful aging, financial wellness and creative activities.

If you enjoy teaching and sharing your knowledge, visit our website at palmdesert.ucr.edu/welcome-ucr-osher to submit a proposal. Proposals are accepted for the fall, Spring, and spring quarters. For the fall quarter, submit in April; for Spring, submit in August; and for spring, submit in November.
